

Words of the Mother – II

Power of integral purity: the power to accept nothing but the divine influence.

*

Mental purity: a mirror which does not distort.

*

Perfect mental purity: a spotless mirror constantly turned towards the Divine.

*

Integral mental purity: silent, attentive, receptive, concentrated on the Divine — this is the path to purity.

*

Vital purity: it begins with the abolition of desire.

*

Collective purity: a very precious achievement but one difficult to obtain.

*

Divine purity: it is happy just to be, in all simplicity.

*

SIMPLICITY

There is a great beauty in simplicity.

*

Integral simplicity: the simplicity which is the consequence of perfect sincerity.
