

that name is a proof of complete ignorance of what is really a spiritual experience.

The effect of the drug must be either an erratic wandering in the vital or the waking up of some subconscious notation gone asleep in the subconscious part of the being.

No time to say any more on such a futile subject.

To seek for pleasure is to ask for pain, for they are the obverse and reverse of the same thing.

*

All that is conducive to the keeping of one's consciousness in the most material planes of the being would be criminal.

(On the choice of a motor-car)

Do you want to go from one place to another without getting tired and without spending much time on the way, or do you want to be smart and look like an important man?

Shrinking is as bad as desire — so have the fan and let the Divine's will be done, for — after all — it is always His will that prevails!

*

One must be without preferences and without desire to know the Divine's will.
