

The Path

The mountain path leads always in two directions, upward and downward — all depends on what we put behind us.

*

Life is a perpetual choice between truth and falsehood, light and darkness, progress and regression, the ascent towards the heights or a fall into the abyss. It is for each one to choose freely.

In each one's life a moment comes when he has to choose between the Path and the muddle. You cannot put one foot here and one foot there. If you try to, you will be torn to pieces.

A heart that does not choose is a heart that will die.

You take up the spiritual path only when you feel you cannot do otherwise.

*

One must will in all sincerity.

*

You can follow the meanderings of innumerable reincarnations or choose the steep and rapid path of intensive “sadhana”.

*

He who follows the steep path that climbs the heights can easily slip down into the abyss.

*

For those whose destiny it is to scale the summits, the least false step risks being a mortal danger.

*

The perfect path: for each one the path which leads fastest to the Divine.

*

All was gold and gold and gold, a torrent of golden light pouring down in an uninterrupted flow and bringing with it the consciousness that the path of the gods is a sunlit path in which difficulties lose all reality.

Such is the path open before us if we choose to take it.
